MINING CONCERNS? YOU CAN TRUST US TO DO IT RIGHT

Martin Biscombe – Conveyancer

"The legacy of tin mining is one of the particular challenges when dealing with conveyancing in Cornwall. It is of critical importance to make sure that a property is not going to be affected by mining related subsidence, or even worse, that there might be a mine shaft or other void underneath the property. Experience has taught me which areas are likely to be more problematic than others, allowing me to better assist clients"

Martin has over 15 years experience in conveyancing and a reputation of being incredibly thorough but also pro-active.

At Thurstan Hoskin we like to take the stress and worry away from you.
